

Lebanon County Relay Day at the Mall

On Saturday, March 1, 2008, participating “jailbirds” will be hauled into center court and placed in a jail cell for a one-hour term. During that hour, they will be calling their friends & family asking them to make the donations they need to meet their $500 bail.

In order to meet (or exceed) their bail and be released from jail, they will be collecting money from YOU, the Mall shoppers, as well as from their family & friends.

If they do not meet their bail, they are required to sit in the “can” for another hour. It’s always great fun to watch local celebrities dressed in stripes, and incarcerated, so tell your family, friends, and everyone you know to come on out & help them raise their bail!

This is a fun & simple way for them to raise the vital funds which support our local American Cancer Society's Patient Service programs!!

If you would like to volunteer as a jailbird, but cannot be at the Mall on March 1st, please feel free to contact Laura at laura@lebcorelay4life.org to find out how to support your favorite team by fundraising online!
